How To Uninstall Jenkins On Windows?

- Jenkins is a popular open-source server automation that is used for continuous integration and continuous delivery (CI/CD) for building, deploying, and automating projects.

- Jenkins is one of the most popular tools used by DevOps to facilitate server automation tasks. Jenkins is highly extensible and supports a variety of popular plugins, making it a popular choice for automation tasks and software development.

Steps To Uninstall Jenkins

- One may have several reasons to remove Jenkins from the system. If someone wants to upgrade or downgrade Jenkins, it is advised to remove the existing version of Jenkins.

- Then, the user can install the latest version of Jenkins without any issues. Many individuals want to uninstall Jenkins to free some memory in the system, or for troubleshooting purposes.

- It is important to keep in mind that whatever the purpose of uninstalling Jenkins make sure to backup important data or configurations from Jenkins.
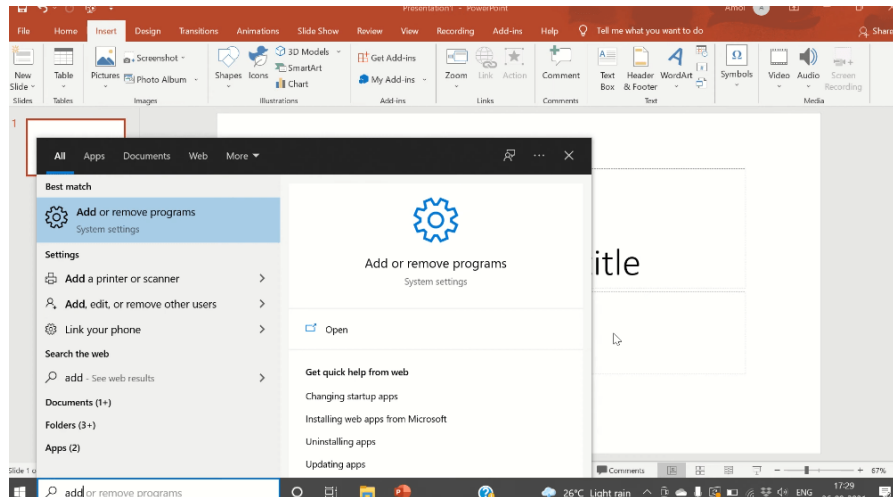

Steps To Uninstall Jenkins On Windows

Let's start the process of uninstalling Jenkins from Windows completely and with ease.
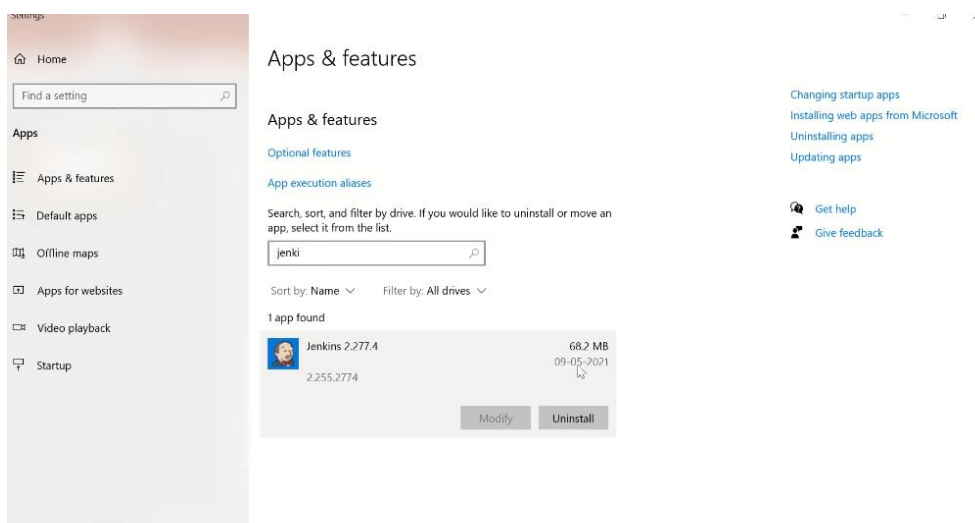

To Uninstall Jenkins follow the below step:

Step 1. Click on the Start Menu

- Click on Start Menu and Search 'add or remove program'. Then after typing this hit enter, After doing this operation 'apps and features' will open. Do the same process as shown below in the Image.

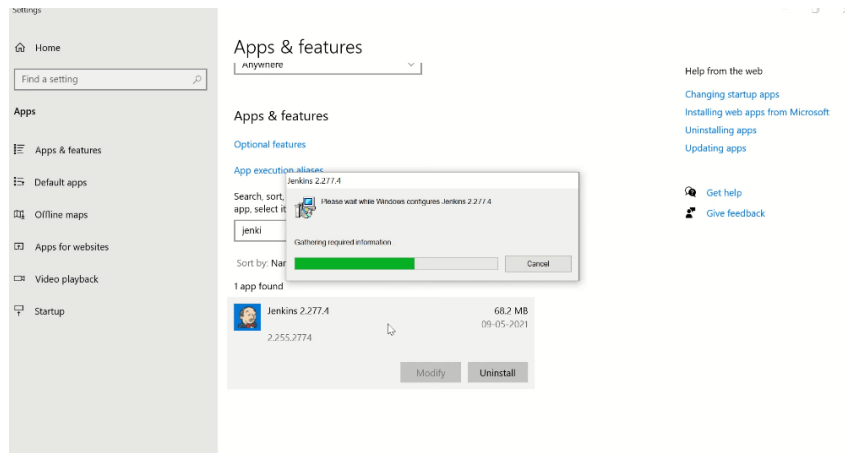

Step 2: Search Jenkins

- Apps & Features screen will open up to you, now search 'Jenkins' in the search box. After typing, Jenkins software will appear on the screen, just click on the uninstall option and wait till it gets uninstalled. Do the same process as directed in the below image.

- Wait till It gets uninstalled from the system. Provide the administration rights and it will get uninstalled as shown in the below image.

Step 3: Delete the Jenkins folder

Go to C: -> Program Files.When your present working directory is "program files" locate the 'Jenkins' folder, and delete the whole folder. Look at the below image and follow the steps to uninstall the Jenkins folder.Look at the below image:

you successfully uninstall Jenkins from your system.